FRANCHISE FOR

League Promoters Devise Plans to Give State Baseball.

At a meeting of those interested in the formation of a baseball league, held at the Kenyon hotel last evening, a plan was finally worked out whereby it is believed the league can be carried to a successful end. For the past three weeks Salt Lake. Murray and Ogden have been practically Murray and Ogden have been practically ready to go ahead, but all efforts to whip a fourth town in line have failed. Logan and Provo have been invaded and all efforts possible to get them in line failed. It seemed impossible to awaken the citizens to the importance of league baseball, and the franchise placed in a town which would not give the league its moral support would mean failure from the start. It had been planned to make a final ef-It had been planned to make a final effort to line up Provo last evening, but word was received from there yesterday that the efforts would prove useless, as the town would not get behind the club. Realizing that another tack would have to be taken or Salt Lake would not have baseball worthy of the name for another year, a meeting of those interested was called for last evening. Those present were Dad Gimlin and F. N. Bossner of Ogden, J. C. Smith of Murray, and H. O. Sheppard, A. G. Mackenzie, John C. Tobin and W. E. Shoppe of Salt Lake.

Fort Douglas in Line.

At the request of the meeting Lieutenant Elliott of Fort Douglas was present and outlined a plan whereby Fort Douglas could put a team in the league which would be able to play the grade of baseball demanded by the fans of the towns interested. Lieutenant Elliott proposes to strengthen the fort team by securing fur-loughs for some of the best ball players in the army and bringing them to the fort for the season, to play on the fort team. In addition to this, the fort will, if necessary, hire a number of civilian players to put the team up to the standard maintained by the other teams in the league. After hearing Lieutenant Elliott explain his position in the matter, it was voted by those present that a franchise be given to Fort Douglas as the fourth in given to Fort Douglas as the fourth league. The question of the $1,000 sinking fur regarding Fort Douglas was disposed of in a manner which adds financial strength to the league itself, that is, gives Salt Lake, Ogden and Murray more funds with which to carry them through the season. A forfeit from Fort Douglas will not be required and in return the league not be required and in return the league will not have to guarantee any of the expenses of the fort team. Instead, Fort Douglas will be given one-quarter of the pooled gate receipts. This will give this team plenty of money to pay its own ex-penses through the league and a fund with which to hire such civilian players as they may desire to use. As the regular fort players will not be on a regular sal-ary, and as they will not be required to sign league contracts, the soldiers are in shape to support their team without any outside aid. Under these circumstances it would not be right to ask the fort, with a self-supporting team, to come to the aid of the other teams in the sinking fund. In return for a franchise the fort will turn loose 1,000 enlisted men as possibaseball fans and rooters for their

Would Add Big Bunch of Rooters.

This, it is believed, is a stronger bunch of rooters than any of the other proposed towns could produce. In addition, the league will have a less load to carry, having only three towns to support instead of four. Those present last evening discussed this plan from every point of view and came to the conclusion that it would make a stronger league from every point and should give as good baseball as if either Provo or Logan had been given a franchise. But another point which met with favor was the greatly reduced expenses, such as railroad fares and hotel bills, with a franchise at Fort Douglas. Meeting at Murray Tonight.

A meeting will be held in both Ogden and Murray today to submit the change in the league to those who have put up their money for baseball. It was de-clared that it would not be fair to change the plans of the league without consulting those who are paying for baseball. Ogden will hold its meeting this afterno ogden will hold its fleeting this afternoon and Murray tonight. A number of Salt Lake roofers will go down to Murray tonight to help Mr. Smith put the matter before the Murray fans. Should they meet with success, another meeting will be held in Salt Lake tomorrow night, when, it is hoped, all the difficulties the com-mittees have had to face in the past month will be overcome.

His denial of all the charges brought by Miss Wood in her suit was emphatic and when prodded too hard by the plaintiff's counsel the aged senator proved himself capable of vigorous response.

Marriage Certificate Attacked.

While the defendant in the action was in the court room much of the day. Miss Wood, the plaintiff, did not attend the trial. The presentation of the case for the defense, aside from Senator Platt's own testimony, was marked by a sharp attack on the authenticity of the marriage certificate which Miss Wood offered in evidence to support her contention of a matrimonial contract with the senator.

Denied All the Charges.

Senator Platt himself in his testimony categorically denied that he ever mar-ried or promised to marry the plaintiff, repudiated the signature purporting to be his on the marriage certificate and the genuineness of several letters which Miss Wood testified came to her from him. At the conclusion of the afternoon session Justice O'Gorman announced that the trial must conclude with tomorrow's sessions, no matter how late a sitting of the

The sentiment is such that in either body there appeared to be no chance of compromise, and it is said that if congress were to stay in session a week longer neither could be induced to yield.
